

Ideas for fundraisers

Your event doesn't have to be entirely new and different to be successful. It should be fun, though. That's why we encourage people to consider their hobbies and interests when they decide what kind of event they want.

Brainstorming is a great way to generate ideas. It's even more fun when you get friends involved. Write down every idea, even the silly ones. You might even come up with an event nobody has done before.

Here are some ideas for events:

- pancake breakfast
- barbeque
- golf tournament
